TAX BILL FOR YEAR IS INTRODUCED

Passed by Board of Aldermen But Laid Over in Lower Board.

SAME AS LAST YEAR.

Mr. Field Makes Statement— Harry Hammond Elected School Trustee —Leonard Chesser Messenger.

The session of the City Council last night lasted about an hour. The tax bill for the coming fiscal year was introduced in the Board of Aldermen and passed. According to law, it was laid over in the Common Council.

There was a joint session for the purpose of electing a school trustee from the Third ward to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Dr. W. M. Smith. Mr. Harry Hammond was selected by a unanimous vote, he being the only candidate.

Leonard Chesser was elected messenger of the Board of Aldermen to fill the vacancy caused by the death of J. P. Laphen.

Board of Aldermen.

There was virtually no discussion in the Board of Aldermen, and all the papers presented were disposed of by unanimous votes, and the action of the Common Council was concurred in on all papers which came from that board.

The tax bill for the year commencing June 1, 1914, and ending May 31, 1915, was presented by Mr. Field, chairman of the finance committee, and it was adopted. The rate is unchanged from last year. Mr. Field in presenting the ordinance among other things said:

By direction of the finance committee I present the ordinance imposing taxes for the fiscal year June 1, 1914, to May 31, 1915, with the recommendation that it be passed.

The rate $1.80 per $100, with the usual discount for prompt payment is the same rate as last year, $1.71, if bills are paid during the first discount period. This rate $1.71 has also been the rate every year since 1894, (excepting years 1909-1910, when the net rate was $1.78-6-10.) This yielded under the assessment of the fiscal year 1912-13, $110,158.-00, and under the assessment 1913-14, estimated at this time at about $113,000.00 or $114,000.00. These figures will quite likely be used as a basis for the coming year by the finance committee, and when we report the appropriation bill for coming year our estimates will be based upon the receipts for this fiscal year.

We cannot decrease the tax rate or license tax, and it is quite certain that no one will be willing to increase a tax burden.

On the night of January 28, 1913, I read a statement here, in which I endeavored to show that we were pursuing a policy that might cause some trouble in our fiscal affairs if we continue each year spending more money than we were raising, or could raise from proper taxable sources. Each year temporary loans were being resorted to, in order to carry our municipal obligations and each loan exceeding in amount the one preceding it. There must be a day of redemption.

It was then my purpose, and is my intention now to try and cause a halt on living beyond our income, and call into use at once the "check wheel." This policy did not in January 1913, and may not now, meet with the approval of some who oppose the idea of "making no appropriations for other than absolutely necessary expenses" for a time at least. Every person has a right to his opinion and while it had not occurred to me last year to adopt what President Wilson has termed "watchful waiting" yet I was fully assured in my own mind what we would have to face this year.

During the past year I have read many clippings from various newspapers, giving extracts from the writings and addresses of prominent men, who from long and important service in governmental matters, see the wisdom of making no appropriations for other than absolutely necessary expenses, and I beg leave to quote a few. Vice President Marshall in one of his epigrammatic utterances said, "Government is a necessity. It was never intended to be a luxury." "If government takes more from the taxpayer than is necessary to effectively and economically conduct its business, then the government is a thief, and we ought to call in the police."

The present Governor Glynn, of New York, who I think was some years comptroller of that great state, and in that capacity was in a position to know about fiscal matters concerning the State, as reported by the press, says, "We cannot materially increase our receipts. We must decrease our expenditures. The taxpayer must be prepared either to shoulder a heavy direct tax or to discourage the illusion that the best legislator is he who brings back the largest appropriations from the State Treasury for his home district."

The comptroller of Maryland, also realizing the tendency to spend more than can be collected is reported, as follows in the "Baltimore Sun" "Comptroller Harrington submitted his report to the Legislature. In it he stated that the State expenses were exceeding its income and declared in favor of a state tax commission whose duty it would be to fix the basis for taxation in every county and city in the State."

Judson Harmon, of Ohio, the attorney general during President Cleveland's second term, and who has but recently finished a four years term as Governor of Ohio, in addressing the legislature of Kentucky in February 1913, admonished the assembly as to taxation and expenditures, among other things he said, "These are times of private extravagances, but that is no excuse for public extravagances. Everybody may spend his own money as he pleases, but public officials spend other people's money, much of it contributed under hardship, and all of it for purposes which makes it sacred for every patriot."

Former Speaker Cannon in a recent address, on the efforts to spend and keep on spending and the need to apply the "check wheel" in the face of strong inclinations to the contrary, is thus quoted, "There may be a temporary demand for legislation with a manufactured public sentiment behind it which has to be resisted, and it calls for courage to become unpopular, even for the time being. There are such situations in nearly every Congress, and the sentiment behind demands for special legislation, often sounds like the voice of the whole people. There have been occasions when this demand was heeded and the Congress soon after learned that it had only been frightened into running away. The act was repudiated by the people. The wheel horses who sat back in the breeching and tried to prevent the runaway came nearer representing the quiet, unexpressed majority sentiment than did those who heeded the noise."

On December 21, last, there was a meeting in Richmond of the finance committee of the former general assembly of Virginia, called for the purpose of discussing the question of taxation and appropriations for the two years February 1, 1914-16. At that time newspaper reports of the proceedings were published. The Alexandria Gazette in its Richmond news, says, "Members of the finance committee have expressed themselves as opposed under any conditions to an appropriation bill, which would exceed the fairly anticipated revenues, or which might bring on a deficit similar to that created by the liberal appropriations of the session of 1908."

Governor Stuart only recently admonished the general assembly to use caution, as he would not approve, but would veto, any appropriation bill that was too close on fairly ascertained revenues.

Even if I had entertained any doubts as to my position in insisting that for a time at least, we should pursue the policy of "making no appropriations for other than absolutely necessary expenses," and I had no doubts, yet they would be dispelled after reading what I have quoted from experienced students of government, and gladly accept them as sponsors, in preference to others who may have different views on this subject.

I may say in closing that in my

ANOTHER VERSON OF CONFESSION

DID NOT GIVE NAMES.

Statement That One Guilty Man is Walking About Free Causes Many Guesses Among Officials.

New York, April 15.—Another version of the eleventh-hour confession of the gunman, Frank Cirofici, one of the four men electrocuted in Sing Sing last Monday at dawn has been given by his sister, Marie Cirofici.

Her account of Frank's story of the Rosenthal murder, as related by him to Warden Clancy, Father Cashin, his spiritual adviser; Mrs. Cirofici and herself two hours before he was led to the electric chair, differed materially from the report made by Warden Clancy to Governor Glynn and Superintendent of Prisons Riley. She is convinced that her brother broke his silence because of the hope held out to him that he would be granted a reprieve if he told the truth.

According to the girl, Cirofici said: "I am innocent, and one of the other boys is innocent. One of the guilty men is walking the streets today."

Asked if her brother had mentioned the name of Harry Vallon as one men who shot Rosenthal, Miss Cirofici said:

"No, I cannot tell you whether he mentioned Vallon's name or note. He cautioned us not to mention names and I must not do so."

At this point of the interview Miss corofici said Frank's mother begged him to divulge every bit of information he had concerning the Rosenthal murder. Frank, she said, again protested his innocence.

"He then looked straight at mother and I and again said:

"Before going to my death, two are guilty,' and he pointed his finger in the direction of the death house 'and another ("Whitey Lewis") besides myself is innocent.'

"Father Cashin then said: "Are you sure that you have nothing else to say, Frank? Frank replied, "Three men fired shots. One man still walks the streets. I have no malice toward him.' Lifting his voice Frank said to Father Cashin: "Becker was not involved in this. From what I learn from the other boys out there in the death house, I cannot believe that he (Becker) was the instigator. It was a gamblers' row. He explained that Mr. Becker was in a position to help the gamblers and had refused to do so, and that they had decided to put him in a fix."

BOAT CLUB CARNIVAL NOTES.

Motor Boat Arrives and is Now on Exhibition.

The Alexandria Motor Boat Club announces the arrival of its 18-foot Cleveland auto craft. This boat is now on exhibition in the Surprise Theatre, and is one of the handsomest crafts ever brought to this city.

The Evinrude portable row boat motor has been shipped, and is expected daily. One of these handy motors was tried out last Sunday on the river by a quartet of well-known and popular young men of the town, and the little motor chug-chugged all along the river front to the great delight of the occupants of the row boat which required no oars to propel.

The members of the publicity committee are kept busy acknowledging the receipt of contributions. Among the recent conarobutions are the following: J. C. Bowie, tobacco; Parker Brothers, sugar; Charles Marshall, cash; Pennett, florist, flowers; Robert Bell's Sons, stationery; Forbes Brothers, half barrel flour; Pillsbury Flour Milling Co., through Forbes Brothers, 1 barrel flour; F. JUNIOR GERMAN CLUB.

Arrangements Being Made for the Fancy Dress Ball.

The Junior German Club held their Easter dance yesterday afternoon in the Elks' Auditorium. This dance was by far the prettiest the club has given this season. The young ladies who kindly assisted in the dancing were Misses Christina Kemper and Delia Phillips. The favors used were very pretty, and appropriate to the Easter season Young ladies were given miniature Easter baskets filled with small candy eggs. A little boutonniere of sweet peas was given each boy. The ones who are to lead figures in the fancy dress ball were drilled in several of the most difficult figures by Mr. Stanley Blanton.

There will be no more dances of the club before the fancy dress ball. The club will hold the ball on Friday evening, May 1st, from eight till eleven in the Elks' hall where they hold all their dances. Many enjoyable features are on for that evening. Besides the various figures to be marched, and a pretty pink scarf figure, the entire club will join in a may-pole dance; then the Spanish dance, the minuet the "Flirtation, and several other very pretty figures and dances will be done. The members of the club are each given the privilege of inviting their parents and one or two friends to the ball, and are expected to make good use of this privilege. They will do the tango, one-step, hesitation, and maxixe, which they are all equally proficient in now.

WRITS OF ERROR ON THREE APPEALS

Judge Keith in State Supreme Court Allows New Trials in Cases.

CARTER DAMAGE SUIT.

Circuit Court of Fairfax Reversed in Case of W.&O.D. Ry. Involving $10,000 For Injuries.

Richmond, Va., April 15.—The Supreme Court of Appeals yesterday granted a writ of error in the case of the Washington and Old Dominion Railway Corporation against Alfred B. Carter, from the Circuit Court of Fairfax County. Carter was awarded a verdict of damages for personal injuries in the sum of $10,000 on February 11, 1914.

The petitioner owns a railroad line from Rossyln, in Alexandria county, to Leesburg, in Loudoun county, and carries passengers and mail. Carter was a mail clerk in the employ of the United States government in charge of a mail car on December 27, 1912. At or near Wiehle Station he was jolted or jostled or thrown through the open door of the mail car to the ground and received painful injuries. He alleged negligence on the part of the railroad company in failing to provide the door of the mail car with a cross bar, such as is customary. The railroad company offered testimony to show that it had provided such a bar, and that it had been removed with the full knowledge and acquiesence of Carter. The jury found in favor of Carter, and assessed the damages at $10,000. A writ of error and supersedeas was granted by Judge Keith and bond in the s mof $12,000 was required.

A writ of error and supersedeas was granted by the Court in the case of the Blackstone Manufacturing Company against L. E. Allen. The case came up from the Circuit Court of Lunenburg county, where it was disposed of on October 17, 1913.

On February 2, 1906, Allen and his wife executed a deed in consideration of the payment of $3,001, for the sale of all the standing timber on a certain tract of land consisting of 150 acres. Under the terms of this deed the Blackstone Company was to have seven years to cut and remove the timber, with provision that the time would be extended three years under certain conditions and on the payment of certain interest charges. The seven-year period expired February 2, 1913, and the Blackstone Company claims that it now has cut and hauled to a saw mill logs and lumber amounting to about 300,000 feet. It relied on the extension clause to continue and complete the cutting of the remaining timber.

Mr. Allen brought proceedings to prevent the company from removing further timber from the land, from which order the Blackstone Company appealed. Bond was required by Judge Keith in the sum of $2,500.

A writ of error and supersedeas was granted in the case of the Dan River Cotton Mills Company against L. T. Waugh, from the Circit Court of Pittsylvania county. Bond was required by Judge S. G. Whittle in the sum of $4,000?

Waugh claimed that the dam, powerhouse and other construction of the cotton mills had so changed the natural flow of the river as to cause it in time of freshet to flood his bottom lands and seriously injure his farm. The jury awarded him damages in the sum of $3,000. The cotton mills company claims that Waugh's place is three-quarters of a mile down the river below the power house; that it is a swale of natural depression over which freshets break with no greater force now than before the erection of the building complained of, and further that Waugh bought the property since the erection of the power house in question.

The Board of Managers of the Children's Home entertained yesterday afternoon between the hours of four and seven at a tea given at the Children's Home in Duke street, in honor of the new superintendent, Miss Timlow, who has recently taken charge of the home. The tea was a beautifully appointed function. The parlors were attractive with widespreading palms and fragrant with blooms of the season. Several members of the board, with the President, Mrs. Harry B. Caton, received the guests and later ushered them into the tea room. The table was most daintily arranged. A basket of golden jonquils formed the center piece, and the lighted tapers shed a soft glow through the golden shades over the appetizing dainties outspread.

AMERICAN FLEET SAILS TODAY

TENSION IS MANIFEST.

Vessels Coaled and Provisioned and Ready to Proceed to Mexico as Soon as Signal is Given.

Norfolk, Va. April 15.—The four dreadnoughts and the gunboat Yankton, under command of Rear Admiral Badger, cleared the capes at 1 o'clock, a half houh earlier than expected, and pointed their prows due south towards the Gulf of Mexico.

Hampton Roads, Va. April 15.—With a full head of steam in every boiler, great United States war vessels at Hampton Roads are tugging at their anchors waiting for the flash from the flagship Arkansas to sail for Tampico.

For the last twelve hours the men of the ships have been coaling and stocking the fleet, preparatory to the Southern cruise.

With sealed orders from the Navy Department, Rear Admiral Bradley Fiske arrived from Washington this morning, and Admiral Badger and out a hurry call for all the commanders of the various vessels to meet him in conference on the flagship to determine the best hour for departure and to receive final instructions.

"No stops" was the sailing order decided on, and Admiral Badger elected to take the shortest route by way of Key West instead of Windward passage and Guantanamo. By noon every prow was turned toward Mexico, and the big fleet will pass through the capes with every turbine going at full speed, on what promises to be an epoch making voyage.

By 10 o'clock this morning all was in readiness for the start.

"Reach Tampico by Tuesday" was the peremptory order of Rear Admiral Badger to his squadron.

Washington, April 15.—The real reason for the sending of the fleet to Tampico, with all its significance, became known at the White House today.

The Tampico incident, the insult to the flag, was but one of many. The latest insult, and the one responsible for the Administration's forceful action, was the arrest at Tampico of a mail carrier from a United States ship, and an attempted censorship of dispatches intended for this government from the embassy at Mexico City.

Albert M. Gunnell, of Vienna, Va., was held for the grand jury in police Court this morning on the charge of assaulting Jeremiah H. Crilly on the night of April 2nd. His two companions, E. M. Gunnell, his brother, of Vienna, and Benjamin Oliver, of Great Falls, were dismissed.

The trial consumed more than two hours' time and the court room was packed with an interested audience of spectators. Samuel G. Brent, Commonwealth's Attorney, appeared for the state and the prisoners were represented by Attorneys Lewis H. Machen and R. D. Brumback.

Dr. Arthur Snowden was the first witness. He described the injuries received by Mr. Crilly which he stated could have bene caused by a man's fist but probably were made with some instrument. Mr. Crilly was confined to his home from April 2nd to April 13th.

Mr. Crilly told the story of the assault. He said that he was standing in the door of his establishment when the three men came south on Lee street and that they were under the influence of liquor. E. M. Gunnell stopped and asked him where "a certain woman was located." He replied that he did not know and told the man to go about his business or he would call the police. Albert Gunnell then advanced in hi sdirection and called him an ugly name. His brother interfered and the three men started down the street. At the corner they stopped and had a conference and came back to the store. Mr. Crilly came to the door again to see if the three men had gone and they were waiting outside the door. Albert Gunnell struck him in the head and according to the force of the blow and the scar left, he thought a steel knuckle had been sed. He was knocked down and did not regain consciousness for two hours. Mr. Crilly said that he had done nothing to provoke the assault.

Mr. Crilly's testimony was confirmed by John Doran, William Moore, colored, and Rice Pendleton, colored, but two colored men who are employed by Charles King said that Mr. Crilly had attempted to strike the young man.

The three prisoners gave conflicting statements. They agreed that they were all under the influence of liquor and did not have a very clear idea of what had occurred. Previous to the assault they had visited two resorts in the "red-light district." Oliver said he was some distance away when the difficulty occurred. E. M. Gunnell said that he did not see the first blow struck, as his brother was behind him. He did not see Mr. Crilly attempt to strike his brother.

Two newspaper men testified that Albert Gunnell had talked to them on the morning following the assault, and during the interview stated that the assault had been unprovoked and that he was very sorry it had occurred.

Gunnell in his statement said that Crilly had attempted to strike him and that he had struck back in self-defense.

Gunnell's attorneys asked the court to be lenient with the accused, as they said it was his first offense and that he was under the influence of liquor, but Justice Caton held that the assault was of such a serious nature and the evidence so conclusive that it was unprovoked, that he would hold Gunnell for the action of the grand jury.

In the Corporation Court today in the chancery cause of B. Wheatley, who sues, &c., vs. Cornelius C. Madella, et als., a decree was entered referring the cause to E. B. Taylor, commissioner, for report.

SHALL WE CRY "WOLF" AGAIN ?

While today's dispatches to the Gazette indicate that the United States government has at last decided to take some definite action to bring to an end the sanguinary proceedings which have been permitted to continue without interruption in Mexico for the past three years, we are not inclined to take much stock in the earnestness of the administration until some further action is forthcoming. We have been fooled so many times by the activity on the part of the army and navy authorities that the dispatching of another fleet to Mexico is inclined to make us again cry "wolf." Certainly there is no real reason for all of the present turmoil unless the President, disgusted by the failure of his pacific plan, intends to use the Tampico incident as an excuse to force Huerta's hand. It seems hardly probable that a little thing like the refusal of the Mexicans to salute the American flag or the arrest of a half dozen bluejackets would have caused such a storm when the cold-blooded murder of two hundred American citizens, the wanton destruction of a hundred million dollars of American property and the studied insults to the American government, practiced by Huerta and his subordinates for the past year have scarcely caused a moment's concern to those in authority in Washington. Although our love for our country and its emblem was never stronger than it is at the present, we get pretty tired of much of the rant about the American flag when we find the ranters are inclined to disregard everything that the flag stands for.

In the present instance we can see no use of requiring the Mexican government to salute the American flag unless it means the protection of the several thousand of American citizens who have been compelled to remain in Mexico. We suppose, however, that the final rupture between the United States and Mexico will come over some incident like the present one, and, as it is bound to come sooner or later, the flag excuse will in all probability be as good as any other that may be formulated.

ANNIVERSARY OF TITANIC HORROR.

About this time two years ago the Titanic, the largest steamship which had been launched, was proceeding towards the American shores on her maiden voyage. A larger and happier company had probably never before invaded the realms of Neptune. The majestic ship, a marine monster, apparently immune to storm, and pronounced unsinkable by her confident commander, was ploughing her way over the pathless deep carrying enough people to populate a good-sized town, all of whom were happy and with every anxiety dissipated as to the danger of crossing the deep when ensconced in such a capacious floating palace.

The dining room presented a dazzling scene, as a dinner was being tendered the captain. The grand saloon was ablaze with electric lights and champagne was in evidence while music enlivened the scene. Probably the last thought to cross the minds of the revelers was danger. At this time a silent spectre was being laved by the chilly waters of the north Atlantic. It was directly in the course of the oncoming leviathan which was rushing to destruction with its human freight. The submerged and hidden spur of an enormous iceberg suddenly brought the great steamer to a standstill with a large portion of her bottom demolished.

The scene which followed has often been described. The inrushing water soon made it apparent the steamer was doomed. The banquet was brought to an abrupt close, and instead of the flushed faces of a few moments before blanched countenances, indicative of terror, were everywhere. People in all walks of life composed the passenger list, but all found themselves on an equal footing as the danger became apparent.

In a comparatively short time the huge steamer had settled at the bow until the water was awash with the bridge, and it was not long before the great Titanic was diving for the bottom of the ocean—about two miles deep at the place of the disaster—and hundreds of people were in the dark and chilling water.

There have been horrors of the dead since man first launched out on old ocean, but the most colossal was the loss of the Titantic with so many of her passengers whose bones are now bleaching in the caverns of the north Atlantic.

opinion there are three items, which we are committed to, which I consider are absolutely necessary and which I think should be pushed forward to completion at the very earliest opportunity, without any unnecessary delay, viz: the New Truck House, the New High School building and the Armory for the proper housing of our military company.

The Aldermen later proceeded to the Chamber of the Common Council for the purpose of participating in a joint session, and upon their return adjourned.

Common Council.

The Common Council held a brief meeting last night at which all the members were present except Messrs. Spinks, Graham and Marshall.

The committee on general laws, reporting on the petition of Demaine & Son, recommended that if the proposed building at 815 King street was constructed in accordance with the law, Council should not legislate against any particular business. The report was adopted.

The committee on schools and public property recommended the appropriation of $1,000 for drawing the plans and supervising the work on the new High Schol building, and this money was appropriated.

Wm. Simpson was granted permission to lay a terra cotta sewer across Union street between Gibbon and Franklin streets, the entire cost to be borne by the petitioner.

Judge J. K. M. Norton, in behalf of himself and the other abutting property owners, petitioned for the paving of the alley running from Washington to St. Asaph streets, just south of Prince street. It is proposed to use vitrified brick at a total cost of $500, and the petitioners agree to pay $400.00 of this cost. This was referred to the committee on streets.

The Alexandria Free Kindergarten Association asked $300 to assist in the maintainance of the Kindergarten. This went to the committee on finance.

Moses Simms asked permission to repair his dwelling 412 south Royal street, this to include rebuilding a frame kitchen and bath. This was granted.

Bills from the health department aggregating $84.31 were ordered paid.

The School Board, through its clerk, submitted a statement of expenses for the school from July 1st, 1913 to April 1st, 1914, and an estimate of the expenses from April 1st to June 30, 1914. This showed a deficit in the appropriations already made of about $5,000, and was referred to the committee on finance and schools without reading.

On several minor matters coming in and passed by the Aldermen, Council concurred in the action of the upper board.

The tax bill for the coming fiscal year came in from the Board of Aldermen, and was laid over under the law, no changes having been made in the bill as passed last year.

On motion of Captain Bryan a joint session was held for the election of school trustee from the Third ward to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Dr. Smith. The only name placed in nomination was that of Mr. Harry Hammond, who was unanimously elected.

Captain Bryan also gave notices that he would ask for an election of Police Commissioner from the Third ward at the next meeting.

Council then adjourned.

POTOMAC SHAD IN SEASON.

While prices for shad are relaxing slowly in the Alexandria market, gillers a few miles south of the city report satisfactory "drifts", while those fishing near Alexandria manage to net some. Within the next few days fisher hawkers of this city will be crying "fresh shad" early in the morning.

Fishermen hope for a more satisfactory run of shad and herring this season. Some indications of the fruition of this hope are said to be in evidence.

Shad has won international recognition as one of the finest of the world's edible fishes. It has it is said inspired the Muses, the following being found on a grocery store in far away Maine:

"When the angels made shad,
The Devil was mad.
For it seemed such a feast of delight;
So to ruin the scheme
He jumped into the stream
When the strawberries red
First illumined their bed,
The angels looked down and were glad,
But the Devil, 'tis said
Fairly pounded his head,

TRUTH TRIUMPHS.

Alexandria Citizens Testify For The Public Benefit.

A truthful statement of an Alexandria citizen, given in her own words, should convince the most skeptical about the merits of Doan's Kidney Pills. If you suffer from backache, nervousness, sleeplessness, urinary disorders or any form of kidney ills, use a tested kidney medicine.

Could you demand more convincing proof of merit? ? ?

Mrs. Martha L. Byrne, 209 Wilkes street, Alexandria, Va., says: "I never fail to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills after all they have done for me and you may continue using the endorsement I gave some years ago. I take this remedy every once in a while and it keeps me in good health. I was suffering severely from backache. My kidneys were badly disordered and I felt all run down. I was helped so much by the first box of Doan's Kidney Pills that I kept on taking them until I was well."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Byrne had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props, Buffalo, N. Y. (10.)

NEGRO RIOTERS IN THE DOCK.

Officers yesterday succeeded in rounding up nine negroes and one negress who were engaged in yesterday's disturbance, when the participants, after terrorizing the vicinity of a section of the "Petersburg" district, proceeded west on Princess street to Alfred. Several of the rioters entered the colored school building in that locality and caused a thrilling scene.

When the negroes were placed in the small enclosure in the Police Court this morning they left but little space, and crowded and surged like rats in a cage. It was one of the many difficult cases which tax a Police Justice, as negro evidence is difficult to obtain, all such prisoners generally standing with their mouths open and attempting prove alibis or ignorance of what really took place.

It, however, did not take Justice Caton long to analyze the case, the substance of which was as follows: The row started in front of a "Petersburg" saloon, during which it seems the men and the woman had on war paint. The latter told Mitchel and Wesley Watkins where to procure a pistol which was in her house nearby, and Wesley Watkins soon had the weapon in his possession. A beer bottle had in the meantime been used upon the head of one negro and bricks were being hurled. The Watkins brothers started west on Princess street with several negroes following them when Mitchell Watkins took the pistol from his brother and discharged five shots at the negroes who were following them. Their capture by the police was described in yesterday's Gazette.

Mitchell Watkins was fined $50 and in addition given six months in jail. His brother, Wesley, was fined $50, and Inez Green, who furnished the pistol, was sent to jail for six months.

Clarence Green and George Green, who it was shown, had been guilty of assault, although they had told a story of "innocence," were fined $25 each, and Ben Parker, Leonard Turner, and Lee Jones, were assessed $10 each for disorderly conduct. George Campbell and Dennis West were dismissed.

EGGS FOR HATCHING—200 2-year-old pure bred single comb White Leghorn breeders, mated to fine unadulterated cockerels. Eggs are testing out 97 per cent fertility. $1 per 15, $3 per 50, $5 per 100. SAVES DAUGHTER

Ready, Ky.—"I was not able to do anything for nearly six months," writes Mrs. Laura Bratcher, of this place, "and was down in bed for three months.

I cannot tell you how I suffered with my head, and with nervousness and womanly troubles.

Our family doctor told my husband he could not do me any good, and he had to give it up. We tried another doctor, but he did not help me.

At last, my mother advised me to take Cardui, the woman's tonic. I thought it was no use for I was nearly dead and nothing seemed to do me any good. But I took eleven bottles, and now I am able to do all of my work and my own washing.

I think Cardui is the best medicine in the world. My weight has increased, and I look the picture of health."

NEWS OF THE OLD DOMINION

M'CREERY HEIRS LEFT $35,000.

Believed That Families in Fairfax And Alexandria Counties Will Inherit.

Vienna, Va., April 15.—A notice appeared in a Loudoun county paper last week to the effect that a New York attorney was seeking the heirs of a man named Nelson McCreery, supposed to have been born in that section about sixty years ago. He is said to have killed a man in Virginia about thirty years ago as a result of a love affair and then to have disappeared. He is now dead and has left an estate worth upward of $35,000.

The publication of this letter from the New York attorney has developed the strong probability that the heirs of Nelson McCreery are living in Fairfax and Alexandria counties, although no one remembers any one of that name killing a man. Mrs. Nelson McCreery, now well advanced in years, is living at Oakton with her son, Lester McCreery. Her husband disappeared many years ago and has never been heard from, though she never heard of the killing affair.

An old resident of Fairfax, however, remembers that a man named McCreery years ago got into a controversy with another man in a poolroom in Washington and struck him in the head with a cue, and afterwards disappeared.

Mrs. McCreery has two sons, Lester, living at Oakton, and Victor, who is employed at a hotel in Washington. There are three daughters, two of whom, Mrs. Bell and Mrs. Putnam, live at Ballston. The Oakton McCreerys have communicated with the New York lawyer, with a view to clearing up the identity, of the Nelson McCreery, who recently died, believing that he is their long-lost relative.

SLEMP MAY RUN AGAIN.

Friends Say he Will Become a Candidate to Succeed Himself.

Washingon, April 15.—Friends of Representative Bascom Slemp declared that he will be a candidate to succeed himself in Congress from the Ninth Virginia District. This information is given by Mr. Slemp's closest political friends in Washington.

It is stated that letters are pouring into Mr. Slemp's office from all parts of the district, urging him to reconsider and make race against R. Tate Irvine, the Democratic nominee. Some of the letters are so strong that the present representative from the Ninth is thinking seriously of again becoming a candidate.

"Mr. Slemp will run again," said one of his closest political friends today. "In the first place, the Republicans of the Ninth do not intend to let him retire and will nominate him despite his talk of retiring. There is also another factor in the matter. The Republican leaders in Congress are hopeful of winning the next House. They do not wish to take any chances in the Ninth Virginia District and believe that district will be certain should he again be the candidate."

Mr. Slemp announced about this time two years ago that he intended to get out of Congress. The Bristol Republican convention nominated him after three or four other men had made a campaign for the nomination.

Mr. Slemp's vast coal land operations in Southwest Virginia and Eastern Kentucky are now so adjusting themselves that he will have more time for Congress than he has had since the death of his brother and business partner, William Slemp.

SHOT BY HIS SON.

Richmond, Va., April 15.—Special Officer John W. Berryman, of Chesterfield county, was shot accidentally by a pistol in the hands of his son, David L. Berryman, Monday morning at 9:30 o'clock at Ullman's stables, at Fourteenth and Stockton streets, South Richmond.

The bullet, which was fired from a Colt automatic revolver, entered the officer's right thigh and taking a downward course lodged between the thigh and knee.

Officer Berryman was taken to the Virginia Hospital. At noon today physicians at the hospital said the wounded man was resting quietly. The bullet, which lies about two inches beneath the skin, was extracted in the afternoon.

"If I die from my wound, I will not have my son held responsible for my death," the father said while lying bleeding.

Young Berryman is employed as chauffeur and manager of Ullman's garage and stables. The revolver was the officer's. The pistol was being examined by the son when it accidentally fired.

FEARS SON WAS MURDERED.

Richmond Man Offers $500 for News of Him.

Richmond, Va., April 15.—W. E. Newman authorized the police department yesterday to offer a reward of $500 for information leading to the finding of his son, Howard A. Newman, alive and $50 for proof that his son is dead.

Young Newman disappeared on March 4, following a quarrel with some companions. He is 35 years old, 5 feet 8 1-2 inches tall, weighs 155 pounds, has dark curly hair, dark eyes, a scar on the right cheek bone, is smooth shaved and when he disappeared wore a suit of brown cloth and a gray soft hat.

Vincent Astor is seriously ill at the country place of Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Huntington, whose daughter Helen he is to marry on April 30. He was stricken Monday night and his temperature rose to 105. He was better yesterday, but Mr. Huntington said that physicians still regarded his condiiton as serious. Young Astor recently exposed himself while boating, and congestion of the lungs developed. Physicians were not sure however, that he had pnuemonia.

A West Point dispatch to the New York American says: Robert E. Lee, of North Carolina and P. H. Hodgson, of Nevada, were dismissed from the military academy for deficiency in mathematics. Lee is a grandson of Gen. Robert E. Lee, and was a shortstop and star hitter on the baseball team. Hodgson was halfback on the football team last year.

WOUNDS WIFE; KILLS SELF.

Luray Man Fires Five Bullets Into Woman's Body.

Luray, Va. April 15.—Paul Anderson, of Ingham, this county, fired five bullets into his wife's body yesterday and then shot himself dead.

He hid in his barn and when his wife came out of the house he rushed toward her, emptying his revolver into her body. Returning to the barn, he reloaded the weapon and blew out his own brains.

Anderson left his home Saturday, going to Shenandoah, where he registered at a hotel under an assumed name. He is said to have borrowed a revolver from the hotel clerk. He returned home and attempted to murder his wife and her mother, but they escaped.

Mrs. Anderson was a daughter of Simeon Keyser, who died about six weeks ago. Before shooting his wife Anderson is said to have written to a Luray minister, declaring he intended to wipe out the entire Keyser family. He had been married two years and was a native of Cumberland. Before coming to this county Anderson was a Baltimore and Ohio Railroad brakeman.

AGENTS RUN DISTILLERY.

Richmond, April 15.—Under the supervision of revenue officers, the Richmond Distilling Company, in Henrico county, is being operated until all of the liquor now in the vats is run off. The plant, which was seized on Saturday, under orders of Colonel W. H. Chapman, internal revenue agent, will be closed as soon as possible, and in the meanwhile evidence of serious fraud is being gathered. No arrests have been made, but developments are expected.

The plant is located on Nine-Mile Road, near Stop 7, Seven Pines line. It is one of the largest distilleries in the Eastern District of Virginia, and is operated by John A. Deitrich, the proprietor. It has a capacity of about 400 gallons of whisky a day.

On Saturday, when the revenue agents swooped down on the plant, a run under their supervision resulted in nearly 700 gallons of manufactured spirits, or 300 gallons more than that ordinarily reported to the government. At $1.10 a gallon, the tax on the amount of the discrepancy would have been $330 for one day. It is alleged that irregularities have occurred at many other periods.

The seizure was made by Deputies Hansbrough and Richards and the plant was placed under the orders of Division Deputy Collector E. P. Southward, who put it under guard at once. Distilled liquor amounting to 11,000 gallons was seized and stored in the bonded warehouse at the still.

Colonel Chapman has conducted the case from the beginning and has turned over his evidence to Collector M. K. Lowry, whose office has supervision over collections, and who will be the complainant if the government takes action against the proprietor of the plant or any other parties.

The corporation is empowered to "construct, equip, improve or work upon any and all kinds of plants for the manufacture, storage, utilization, supply or disposition of electricity, gas, water or steam, or of power produced thereby, and to do a general contracting business." It can own not more than 10,000 acres of land in Virginia.
